

pretreatment estimate

We don't require a pretreatment authorization form for any procedure, but we do recommend them for any dental work you consider expensive. As a smart consumer, it's best for you to know your share of the cost up front.

Ask your dentist to submit the information for a pretreatment estimate to the Ameritas customer relations department.

We'll inform both you and your dentist of the exact amount your insurance will cover and the amount you will be responsible for.

2

That way, there won't be any surprises once the work has been completed.
